Chain reaction

Design a chain reaction machine to ignite teamwork, creativity, and quick problem-solving.

DESCRIPTION

Chain Reaction is a creative team-building challenge where small groups design and build interconnected mechanisms—ramps, levers, dominoes, and pulleys—to trigger a final action (like ringing a bell). Teams plan, divide roles, iterate through tests, and integrate modules under a time limit, encouraging collaboration, problem-solving, and quick decision-making. The activity reveals informal leaders, boosts communication, and produces a memorable, visible result that teams celebrate together. Typical sessions run minutes for teams of 6 people. and can be scaled for larger events. Optional scoring (creativity, efficiency, reuse) and a short debrief enhance learning and takeaways.
